Equities Market Summary

The Nigerian equities market extended its bullish run in the midweek trading session, with the NGX All-Share Index (ASI) rising by 1.80% to close at 128,967.08 points. This strong performance lifted the year-to-date (YTD) return to 25.30%, signaling continued investor optimism and sustained confidence in the market. Market capitalization increased significantly by ₦1.44 trillion, reaching ₦81.58 trillion. This reflects deepening market liquidity and heightened investor interest, as bullish sentiment continued to dominate. Despite the overall positive tone, market breadth was slightly negative, with 41 gainers trailing 44 decliners—indicating some selective profit-taking even amid broad market strength. Sectoral performance was largely upbeat. The Banking sector led the charge with a remarkable gain of 7.02%, followed by Consumer Goods (+1.33%), Industrial Goods (+1.15%), and Commodities (+0.19%). However, the Insurance and Oil & Gas sectors experienced modest pullbacks, declining by 3.50% and 0.19%, respectively. Trading activity showed significant improvement across key metrics, underlining robust market participation. Although the number of executed deals declined by 7.09%, total trade value soared by 1,028.44%, while traded volume surged by 807.03% to 11.7 billion shares valued at ₦363 billion, executed across 36,635 transactions.

Money Market

NIBOR rates fell across all maturities, signaling enhanced liquidity in the banking sector. Conversely, money market rates were mixed — the Open Repo Rate (OPR) climbed by 8 basis points to 32.25%, while the Overnight (O/N) rate dropped by 9 basis points to 32.58%.

The Nigerian Treasury Bills (NITTY) curve recorded mixed yield movements across all maturities, reflecting varied investor sentiment. Nonetheless, activity in the secondary market remained subdued, with limited trading interest, as the average yield held steady at 18.36%.

Bond Market

The FGN bond market closed on a mildly positive note, driven by yield declines across key maturities. This downward movement resulted in an 11basis points reduction in the average yield, which settled at 16.70%, reflecting modest investor demand.

The Nigerian Eurobond market closed bearish, driven by sell-off pressure across the yield curve—most notably in the NOV-2025 bond. As a result, yields rose, pushing the average yield up by 13 basis points to 8.67%.

Foreign Exchange Market

At the Nigerian Autonomous Foreign Exchange Market (NAFEM), the naira depreciated by 0.74% to close at ₦1,530 per US dollar, while in the parallel market, it ended at ₦1,545 per dollar.
