Equities Market Summary

The Nigerian equities market extended its bearish trajectory on Friday, with the NGX All-Share Index declining 0.16% to close at 242,619.20 points, pulling the year-to-date return down to +55.91% and erasing ₦257.06 billion from market capitalization, which closed at ₦156.62 trillion. Investor sentiment was negative at a market breadth of 0.7x, as 30 decliners led by FTGINSURE, OMATEK, JOHNHOLT, RTBRISCOE, and DANGSUGAR outpaced 20 advancers, with INTENEGINS, TRANSEXPR, GUINEAINS, REGALINS, and JAPPAULGOLD recording the most notable gains. Sectoral performance was largely negative, as Insurance (-1.49%), Consumer Goods (-0.46%), and Banking (-0.23%) all weighed on the index, while Oil & Gas (+0.05%) bucked the trend and the Industrial and Commodity sectors ended relatively flat. Trading activity weakened considerably, with volume, turnover, and deal count plunging 66.64%, 10.53%, and 5.60% to 1.41 billion shares, ₦45.31 billion, and 39,134 transactions respectively. Looking ahead, the market is expected to sustain its bearish trend as investor sentiment tilts increasingly negative, though residual optimism could spark a recovery driven by portfolio readjustment and strategic repositioning.

Money Market

Nigerian Interbank Offered Rates logged a mixed performance on Friday as the overnight rate slipped 7bps to 22.22% despite a liquidity squeeze in the system. On the other hand, the 1-month, 3-month, and 6-month tenors expanded by 16bps, 52bps, and 50bps, respectively. Short-term funding costs diverged slightly, as the Overnight rate advanced 14bps to 22.25% while the Open Repo rate remained steady at 22.00%.

In the Treasury Bills secondary market, yields surged across the curve as the 1-month, 3-month, 6-month, and 12-month papers advanced by 52bps, 8bps, 18bps, and 38bps, respectively. Following the introduction of three new maturity dates, muted trading activity drove the average NT-Bills yield up by 27bps to settle at 18.54%, signaling a distinctly bearish market sentiment.

Bond Market

The domestic fixed-income market ended the week on a soft note on Friday, with weakening local buying interest pulling bond prices down and raising average FGN Bond yields by 3bps to 16.96%.

Conversely, the Eurobond market held steady as average yields closed unchanged at 6.88%. This flat session reflected a cautious stance among offshore investors and a balanced global appetite for Nigeria's dollar-denominated sovereign paper.

Foreign Exchange Market

The naira capped off the week on a positive note, edging up slightly to settle at ₦1,357.61/$ at the official NAFEM window while strengthening 0.07% to close at ₦1,393/$ in the parallel market.
